The Lady in White

FIRST READING

---

Reader: A reading taken from the spiritual heritage of humanity.
Assembly: From all time, Heaven has prepared the coming of the Kingdom.
Reader: Today a passage from the account given by Ida Peerdeman of the first apparition of the Lady of All Peoples.
It is written:

Suddenly, there is Someone standing above me to the left. It is a Woman clad in a white dress. It seems to me that it is the Blessed Virgin. She says:

“This three is March; this four, April; and the five is the fifth of May.”

While saying this, she raises three fingers, then four, then five. She shows the rosary and says:

“It is thanks to this. Persevere!”

After a moment of silence, she adds:

“The Prayer must be propagated.”...

I ask, “Are you Mary?” She smiles and says:

“I will be called the Woman, Mother.”

The vision fades away. I look into my hand. At this moment, a cross is placed before me. I must lift it. I lift it slowly, slowly. It is so heavy! And suddenly everything disappears.

Reader: This was a passage from the account given by Ida Peerdeman of the first apparition of the Lady of All Peoples.

Assembly: Thanks be to God.
