

LITURGY OF THE KINGDOM

The God of the Little Ones

FIRST READING

Reader: A reading taken from the spiritual heritage of humanity.

Assembly: From all time, Heaven has prepared the coming of the Kingdom.

Reader: Today, a passage from the messages of the Lady of All Peoples.

[27th message, February 11, 1951]

It is written:

“My child,” said the Lady, “the Prayer I have given is so simple and so short that each one, in his own language, can recite it before his own cross. And let him who has no cross recite it to himself.

“Such is the message I bring this day; I come to say that I wish to save souls. Let everyone collaborate in this great work of the world. ‘Ah! If only each one of the children of men would be willing to try to imitate this!’ ”

The Lady raised a finger and said: “Especially in what concerns the first, the main precept: Love.”

And at once, the word “LOVE” appeared, written in large letters.

“So let them start by that,” the Lady declared before adding:

“Then the little ones of this world will ask: ‘What change can we bring about since all of this comes from the great ones?’ To the little ones I reply: ‘Among yourselves, love one another; be thoughtful in every way, one towards the other, and the great ones will no longer have any hold on you.’

“Turn to your cross; say the Prayer I have taught you, and the Son will hear you.”

Reader: This was a passage from the messages of the Lady of All Peoples.

Assembly: Thanks be to God.